The National Association of Hispanic Journalists (NAHJ) is dedicated to the recognition and professional advancement of Hispanics in the news industry. Established in April 1984, NAHJ created a national voice and unified vision for all Hispanic journalists. NAHJ has approximately 2,300 members, including working journalists, journalism students, media-related professionals and journalism educators.

The Rubén Salazar Scholarship Fund and Educational Programs: is named in memory of Rubén Salazar, a columnist for the Los Angeles Times and news director of the Spanish-language television station KMEX. Salazar was covering the Chicano Anti-Vietnam War Moratorium in East Los Angeles in 1970 when he was killed by a tear-gas projectile fired by a deputy sheriff. For journalists of color, his legacy symbolizes the continuous fight to integrate mainstream media and ensure accurate and fair coverage of Latino issues. More than 30 years later, the spirit of his work lives on in the inspirations and accomplishments of past and current NAHJ scholars. Since the inception of the fund in 1986, NAHJ has awarded almost $1 million in scholarships to Latino student journalists. Please join NAHJ for a memorable event celebrating academic excellence and diversity in journalism.
